At the PAO Bidder's Conference on 7 September 1979, I spoke with [REDACTED] the contracting officer for the subject contract.

At that time, he indicated that a draft of our contract would be available for our review this week (week of 10 September). On 10 September, I called John to establish a meeting with him in order to review the contract on 12 September. He told me that the draft was not prepared and that he would be out of town on 12, 13, and 14 September, and that he would not be available to work on the draft contract until 17 September.
